Little Arthur Asleep.

BY MARY E. NEALY.

I am watching by my darling,
Singing soft and singing low;
And my foot upon the rocker,
Sways the cradle to and fro.
Here his little head is cushioned,
On the pillow soft and deep,
And I'll rock the cradle gently,
While I'm singing him to sleep.

Now the silken-fringed eyelids,
Shutting o'er the tender eyes,
Veil their blue and sparkling beauty,
"As the snow on violets lies."
Through the crimson lips the breathing
Comes with murmur soft and mild,
And I cease my cradle carol,
While I watch the sleeping child.

On his breast his hands are folded,
With a simple, baby grace,
And a sweet, seraphic beauty
Lingers o'er his infant face,
And a bright and radiant halo,
Is his soft and golden hair,
Clustered round the blue-veined temples,
And the forehead pearly fair.

Now a joyous smile is bright'ning
Dimpled cheek, and lip, and brow—
Oh, the holy angels whisper
To my little Arthur now!
Who knows all the sweet, wild fancies,
All the visions undefiled,
All the angels' whispers granted
To a little dreaming child!

Kneeling softly by his cradle,
What an eager, earnest prayer,
In my spirit's depths is swelling,
For the little sleeper there;
For the Father's love and guidance,
For the Holy Spirit's power,
For the Saviour's constant presence,
In temptation's fearful hour.

Loving care is all around him—
Watchful care to shield from harm—
And the child is folded ever
By affection's tender arm;
But the heavenly love is better,
And the blessing of all Three,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,
On my little cousin be!

Sarcastic Sentence.

Old Elias Keys, first Judge of Windsor Co., was a strange composition of folly and good sense; of native shrewdness and want of cultivation. The following sentence, it is said, was pronounced upon a poor ragged fellow, convicted of stealing a pair of boots from Gen. Curtis, a man of considerable wealth in the town of Windsor.

'Well,' said the Judge very gravely, before pronouncing sentence of court, undertaking to read the following lecture, 'you're a fine fellow to be arraigned before the court for stealing. They say you are poor; no one doubts it who looks at you, and how dare you, being poor, have the impudence to steal a pair of boots! Nobody but rich people have a right to take such things without paying! Then they say you are worthless—that is evident from the fact that no one has asked justice from you; all, by by unanimous consent pronounced you guilty before you were tried. Now, you, being so worthless, was a fool to steal, because you might know you would be condemned. And you must know that it was an aggravation that you stole them in the large town of Windsor. In that large town to commit such an act is almost horrible. And not only did you steal, but you stole from that great man, General Curtis. This caps the climax of your iniquity. Base wretch! why did you not go and steal the only pair of boots which some poor man had or could get, and then you would have been left alone; nobody would have troubled themselves about the act. For your iniquity in stealing in the great town of Windsor, and from the great General Curtis, the Court sentences you to three months in the county jail, and may God give you something to eat.'

"The Black Malibran."

The Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, in a late letter, has a notice of a colored musical prodigy that he met with at a soiree, and who is styled in Paris the "Black Malibran," which would induce the belief that the "Black Swan" has a formidable rival. We copy the following from the letter:

"The party was given to a bride, whose husband (Count de Julien) is renowned as an amateur composer of music. The charming lady and her sisters are admirable performers and singers. Their duetts were exquisite; the comic airs of other amateurs, irresistable. Altesse, the first flute of the Grand Opera—Ascher, who is among the greatest of pianists, and Gueymard, chief tenor of the Grand Opera, exerted their superlative powers. But the curiosity—the phenomenon—of the evening was a negress, who is styled in the capital the Black Malibran. She is from Havana, and acquired there the reputation of a musical prodigy. She seems to be about twenty-five years old; her complexion the Sambo, Florentine bronze—woolly hair. Her charms were displayed without stint; arms, neck and shoulders bare; bust and arms beautifully turned, thick lips, scarlet gums, white teeth, short stature.

"She played the guitar beautifully and gracefully, accompanying herself in the Spanish lays—some comic—which she executed with signal effect. If I had shut my eyes, I might have fancied myself in Old Virginia, listening to a good banjo, and the peculiar mellow tones of the African sex. Her feet were raised on a cushion, and as she struck—I will not say, unjustly, thrummed—her fine guitar, with her frame drawn up, some of the French ladies remarked that they might have imagined her a Chimpanzee from the Garden of Plants, and dressed for the occasion. Her grimaces excited as lively a sensation as her melodies. Her toilette was a white silk, with two deep flounces of superb costly lace, (cost perhaps five thousand francs) strikingly contrasted with the color of her skin; the corsage was cut as low as possible; no sleeve, literally; on her neck, a rich string of pearls, fastened with a clasp of brilliants; ear-rings and bracelets of gold and diamonds; a quantity of bright artificial flowers on her head; white satin slippers, &c.

WITH HONORS IN THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—It is said that the real wire-pullers at the Baltimore Convention were Caleb Cushing, Henry A. Wise, Paul R. George, and the locally renowned General Pillow—the three first apostate Whigs. All are satisfied with their slaughtering work except General Pillow, who helped on the bargain, and who had the promise of being the Vice President.

"Get thee glass eyes;
And, like a scurvy politician, seem
To see the things thou dost not."

Will the South never be satisfied? Will they never get more generous? Why strike a man when he is down? Almost a hecatomb of statesmen, generals, and young giants, fell at Baltimore, last week, before the unsparing axe of slavery—notwithstanding many of them have for years worked hard to find the most significant language to swear to their apostacy to freedom, and at the same time to construct adroit words by which they could most effectually prove their skill in trying to split principles.—National Era.

NATIONAL FREE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Notice is hereby given, that a National Convention, consisting of Delegates of the Free Democracy, will assemble at the city of Pittsburgh, on Wednesday, the 11th day of August next, at noon, for the purpose of selecting candidates for the offices of President and Vice-President of the United States. Friends of the principles declared at Buffalo, at the memorable Convention of August, 1848, are requested, within their respective States and Congressional Districts, to meet and elect Delegates, wherever the same has not already been done---each State being entitled to three times the number of its delegation in the Congress of the United States.

By order of the General Free Soil Committee,
SAMUEL LEWIS, Chairman.

Washington, June 19, 1852.

FREE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Free Democracy of Wisconsin are invited to meet at Waukesha, Wednesday July 21st, at 10 o'clock, A. M. to appoint delegates to the National Free Democratic Convention, to be held at Pittsburgh, August 11th, and to adopt such measures as may be deemed necessary to organize Free Democrats for efficient action, for the Presidential canvass. Three delegates for each electoral vote, are designated by the National Committee as the number to which each State is entitled, in the National Convention, and as our last Convention appointed but one for each electoral vote, or two in all, there are ten delegates yet to be appointed. The old parties, by their recent National Conventions, have taken open ground in favor of Slavery, and now seek office only through support of the Slave Power. It is high time for those who are not willing to surrender all they hold dear on earth, to the disposal of Slaveholders and their allies, to arouse and gird on the panoply of Freedom. We invite all who love Liberty and would rescue the cause of True Democracy from the hands of its worst enemies, to meet at Waukesha, at the time above designated, and pledge themselves anew to the cause, and the Party of Freedom.

By order of the State Central Committee,
E. D. HOLTON, Chairman.

MASS MEETING AT ELKHORN.

The Free Soil Men of Walworth county, opposed to Slave Hunting, and who are not ready to sell their principles for the hope of office, or to embrace the Slavery platforms adopted at Baltimore, by supporting the candidates representing and approving those platforms, are invited to meet at ELKHORN, ON THE 6TH DAY OF JULY NEXT, at 10 o'clock A. M., "to take into consideration" the duties required of them in the present crisis, "to more efficiently organize" the Free Democracy of the county, and prepare for the approaching fall campaign.

Gen. PAINE, and S. M. BOOTH, of Milwaukee, will be present and address the Convention. Come one, come all.

June29 By order of the Working Committee.

NATIONAL FREE SOIL CONVENTION.—The National Era says of the change of time and place:

"It will be observed that Pittsburgh has been selected as the place of meeting, instead of Cleveland, as originally announced. The change was made in accordance with the unanimous opinion of the friends of the Convention at Washington. The time is also fixed on the 11th instead of the 4th of August; and this change is made to accommodate the East, where the harvests are later than in the West."

We think the change of place a serious blunder, which will materially diminish the number of Delegates, especially from the West, while it will accommodate the East no better than Cleveland would. We protest too, against interference in this matter by members of Congress. Let the Old Hunker parties be dictated to by Congress, but Free Soilers should not imitate them. The Committee, who have now decided in favor of Cleveland, and whose business it was to settle this matter, should have been consulted fully in regard to the change.—There has been ample time to do it. We can assure our Eastern friends that this change gives great dissatisfaction in this quarter, that there is such a place as the West, and that the East will wake up to this fact some morning.

Having expressed our mind freely, we add, we shall do our best to secure a full delegation from Wisconsin.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The National Agricultural Convention, at Washington, have organized a "United States Agricultural Society"---$2,00 constituting an annual, and $25, a life membership---to meet annually, at Washington, on the first Wednesday in February.

The committee on organization had reported in favor of establishing an Agricultural Department by the Government.—Senator Douglass submitted a minority report, in favor of an Agricultural Department in the Smithsonian Institute.

☞ The last method of advertising we have noticed, is that adopted by Genin, the hatter, in New York, a week ago Monday.—He distributed an immense number of fans, labelled with his card, in the streets and omnibuses, gratuitously. A fan-ciful way of raising the wind.

☞ Mr. Stephen Sperry, of Alford, Mass., committed suicide on the 20th inst., by hanging. His age was 65.

APPOINTED.—Samuel Barstow, of Mich., as United States Attorney for the District of Michigan, vice Bates resigned.

☞ The New Hampshire Legislature has repealed the law "relating to personal Liberty," which prohibited any person not an United States officer, from assisting in the arrest or detection of a Fugitive Slave, and has opened the jails of the State for the use of the Slave-Catchers, out of comity to the Slave-holders, and to show their gratitude for the nomination of Pierce.

CONGRESS.—The Railroad Land Grant Bill had been read a third time in the House, and was likely to pass.

The Senate had endeavored to change its rules so as to limit debate, but failed, 21 to 21.

☞ The Cholera is in Pittsburgh.

DEATH OF HENRY CLAY.

The hurry incident to donning a new dress, and our inability---thro' the absence of two of our compositors on a visit to their friends---to put in type what we wished to say, prevented our offering any comments, yesterday, on the death of this illustrious Senator and Politician.

Henry Clay has been identified with the political history of this country, as one of its prominent actors, for nearly half a century. He was one of the most eloquent orators our country has ever produced, but much of the power of his oratory was attributable to his manner, and the mesmeric spell of his persuasive and commanding presence; and his published speeches will not bear comparison with the massive thought, the all-comprehending spirit, the terse simplicity, and the "logic set on fire" which characterize the published speeches of Daniel Webster. To the living generation, Henry Clay is greatly the superior of Webster. To the generations yet to live, Webster will be as greatly the superior of Henry Clay.

Mr. Clay's personal popularity, especially with the members of his own party, was unbounded. His name enkindled an enthusiasm throughout the ranks of Whiggery, to the very extremities of the Republic, which Andrew Jackson, in his palmiest days, with all his victories and triumphs, failed to inspire in the breasts of the "unterrified Democracy." With the friends of Jackson, the loud and long hurrahs which made the welkin ring in every hamlet in the Union, were heightened and sweetened with hopes of the spoils, and the pleasures of a political victory. But the friends of Henry Clay, in their heart of hearts, were stirred with admiration for the man, and their devotion to him was the same in sunshine and in shade, so that, had he been ambitious only of true homage, and been content with substantial, in place of official honors, his defeats, it might truly be said, were his triumphs, his political death his political apotheosis, and though he failed to reach the Presidency, he impressed his mind upon the Government, and enshrined his own spirit, as an object of worship, in the hearts of millions of his countrymen.

But, notwithstanding Mr. Clay's personal popularity and greatness, and the large space he has filled in the public eye, we cannot regard him as a great Statesman. With his iron will, inflexibility of purpose, unbounded personal popularity, and great intellectual powers, had he possessed the sagacity, prudence, wisdom and cool judgment of a great Statesman, he might have controlled and molded the action of the Government to his will. But in all these elements of great statesmanship, he was deficient. He was impetuous, imprudent and overbearing, and on many important occasions, his judgment was singularly at fault, both in regard to the wants of the people and the temper of the times. And though he has unquestionably modified the action of the Government, on many important questions, yet scarcely any important measure, of his originating, has been established as the settled policy of the Government. The United States Bank, the Distribution of the proceeds of the Public Lands, and the Protective System, for all which he made such great exertions, have become obsolete measures, and are remembered only as things that were. And of the great measures which he advocated, the Missouri Compromise, and the Slave Compromises of the last Congress, alone remain, as monuments of his achievements. And they will not add to his fame.

In early life Mr. Clay was an ardent advocate of Freedom, and at the adoption of its Constitution, he labored hard to make Kentucky a free State. But defeated in this effort, he assimilated his views and policy to that of the Slave-holders generally, and for a long life, he has been their most efficient champion, and has done more than any man in the Nation to give the Slave Power complete ascendancy and control over all the departments of the General Government. But his race is run.—He has gone to answer for himself to the Tribunal before which both the master and slave are equal. Peace to his ashes!

MEXICO.—The Mexican Congress had rejected the Sloo contract for the Tehuantepec Road, and had adjourned sine die.

CENSUS MANUFACTURING.—The Chicago Journal says:

"A gentleman who in his official capacity, has occasion to see nearly everybody in town, expressed the opinion to us, that there are, at the present time, at least FORTY THOUSAND people resident in this city."

This gentleman should be employed to take the next U. S. census, and the Journal to print it.

PANORAMA OF ITALY.—This masterly workmanship of art, will be exhibited again at Gardiner's Hall, this evening. Those who have not seen it, we advise to attend, if possible. It's well worth the cost and time of visiting it.

STABBING.—We are informed by a gentleman acquainted with the facts, that a boy residing at Aztalan, named Nelson Hawks, after some altercation stabbed a German boy, in the left side with a knife. It penetrated to the region of the heart, and at the time of the occurrence it was thought would prove fatal. The act was committed on the 12th. The boy, Hawks, was arrested on the 14th, and examined. The magistrate found the evidence sufficient to commit him to jail.—The recovery of the boy stabbed is considered doubtful. They were only about 16 years of age.—Watertown Register.

BOY DROWNED.—We understand that a boy about twelve years old, name not given, was drowned in attempting to cross Rock River at Vicksburgh last week. His body had not been found on Friday.—Watertown Register.

TWO MEN RESCUED FROM DEATH.—On the 19th inst., our fellow citizen, Mr. Z. L. Chapman, while driving a team on the Sheboygan road, about ½ a mile east of Littell's tavern, his attention was attracted by the lusty approach of a woman, who informed him that a man had been suffocated by the 'damp' in the bottom of a well close by. He approached the place, and saw the man, a German, apparently lifeless, at a depth of some 36 feet in a new well. In a moment the owner of the well, Mr. H. Pierce, came in from the field, and prepared to descend and tie a rope around the body, to haul it up.—Before he could tie it, he too, fell senseless. Here was a trying dilemma. No help near, and two men perishing, while he had the greatest difficulty in keeping the distracted wife and a young lady from going down also. Mr. C. then started off for help, but bethought himself of trying the effect of throwing water into the well, which soon had the effect of reviving the German, so as to enable him to put the rope around the body of Mr. Pierce, a large fleshy man. He was drawn up, but exhibited no signs of life, being black in the face and about the limbs.—By a constant hard rubbing and drenching with water, he was restored.—Fond du Lac Journal.

A DISAPPOINTED FILLMOREITE.—The Editor of the Chicago Advertiser, thus vents his grief and spite at the nomination of Scott:

"Scott is Nominated.—The story is told—Winfield Scott is the Whig nominee for President, and the election of Frank Pierce is secured! 'I will not vote for Scott,' is the declaration of at least half the Whigs we meet.

On the 53d ballot the vote stood; Fillmore 112; Webster 21; Scott 158. This was a majority of 25. Well, Southern delegates have done this and if they are satisfied, we are. We can only say to them, Gentlemen, catch your own niggers hereafter, and never say another word about the Compromise Measures."

He also gives Rice the following backhanded compliment:

"Mr. Rice has made arrangements with the celebrated Scenic painter, and somewhat noted Comedian, Mr. J. Parker, from the Eastern cities to paint an entire new set of scenery for his Theatre. We are glad to see that the Manager is coming to his senses.

He now has a very good company, (with perhaps, three or four exceptions,) and all that has been, and is needed to make the Theatre a favorite resort, is his miserable scenery, and great lack in having things rightly managed behind the scenery."

He ought to be allowed to growl a little.

FOR BUFFALO.—The steamer Sultana, Capt. Appleby, leaves this port for Buffalo this evening. H. K. Jerome agent, office corner of Huron and Main streets.

The Evils of Party Politics.

The New York Sun, a neutral paper, has the following truthful remarks:

The proceedings of the two Conventions assembled within the present month in Baltimore, furnish instructive and humiliating chapters in the history of American politics. We sincerely hope that the exhibitions of the want of all principle and all moral rectitude on the part of politicians, will open the eyes and arouse the spirits of the people. Parties, as managed and controlled by unprincipled schemers are sinking into the deepest mires of corruption. The Government and offices of our Republic are made stakes for which political gamblers contend. Economy is banished, the interests and welfare of the people are forgotten, and private speculations and party strifes consume the time which should be devoted to honest legislation. It is with feelings of shame and deep concern that we thus write. It is, however, our duty, though it is no pleasing one. Happy would it be to see some one party in the nation rising above the base attractions of spoils and power, and nobly and patriotically rallying the people to the support and development of pure republican principles, such as our fathers contended for.

There will now be mass meetings, and songs and speeches, and the application of every appliance by which the popular reason may be distracted, and blind impulse substituted for sober judgment. The people will consult their own interests, the interest of their country, and its republican dignity by shunning these excitements; and, instead, calmly and rationally reflecting on the course of duty and patriotism. Thus, when the day of voting comes, they will be better able to intelligently and independently perform their duty. Let men be disregarded, and character and principles be taken as the guides of action.

LATEST COUNTERFEITS.—5's on the Manhattan Company, N. Y.; Vig. a large eagle (dark,) under the name of the bank---ends rough and coarse, with a 5 on each.

2's on the Butchers' & Drovers' Bank, N. Y.---said to be a poor affair.

10's on the Bank of Pittsburgh, Pa.---said to be very coarse.

50's on the York Co. Bank, Pa.---altered from genuine 5's, by piecing and pasting.

5's on the Salem Banking Co., N. J.---Vig. a shield parting two females---the margins of medallion work are pronounced to be genuine die-work. We believe it is an imitation of the genuine note, and if so, the only safety is to reject all Fives on this Bank.—Thompson's Reporter.

FEMALE PHYSICIAN.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune writes:

A lady practitioner of medicine, in Sodus, N. Y., is in advance of the recent movement, for she has been a professor of the healing art nearly twenty years. She studied with her husband, who is a physician of established repute, and commenced practice under his auspices, having her own set of patients. Their number rapidly increased, in part owing to her success, and in part it is supposed, that her charges were rather more moderate than those of the Doctor.—He is above feeling any jealousy, however, of the rising reputation of his wife, and they continue to ride their respective rounds in attendance on the sick. The lady is employed chiefly by the suffering of her own sex and for children, and possesses the entire confidence of all who know her. It is to be supposed that consultations are held in difficult cases. Mrs. G. is a woman of admirable energy, and has reared a large family of children, seeing to the concerns of her household, as well as attending to her professional duties. Those interested in the establishment of a medical college for women, would perhaps like to have her report her method and success in the treatment of disease.

NOT ALL CAVED IN.—The Oneida Telegraph, whose editor spoke like a man against the base desertion of principle of the Barnburners, does not stand alone. It says:

The Northern (Pulaski, N. Y.) Democrat does not raise the Pierce flag in its columns. The editor refuses to follow Gen. Dix, John Van Buren and H. B. Stanton, and honestly denounces the treachery of these men to the principles they professed in '48. We extract the following from his remarks on the Compromise platform:

"It is an easy thing for political leaders, for the hangers on for office, to put on and throw off principles, as one does a garment. With the people it is different. To them all of value there is in a party, is its principles. These they are not willing to eschew for the elevation of any man to office---to take office from one class of men and give them to another.

For two years the Democracy of Oswego county have condemned the compromise measures, by resolutions of their conventions in the strongest terms that could be employed. Shall we ask them to eat their words---to follow Mr. Van Buren in "cheerful and unreserved" committal to these measures? We shall do no such thing. We think Mr. Van Buren egregiously mistaken when he declared the Democracy of New York would stand upon the Baltimore Platform. So far as our observation extends, not one Democrat in fifty approves of the fugitive law, and of its endorsement by the National Convention; and in unfurling such a banner, and proclaiming that the yeomanry of the Empire State will rally under it, he disgraces himself, and libels those for whom he professes to speak."

QUICKER THAN THEY EXPECTED.—In March last three men (?) in this city agreed together to drink themselves to death. The first died in April, the second in May. The survivor on the happening of the last event, showing signs of breaking the compact, and he kept sober two or three days afterwards; but honor revived and he died in the present month of June. This is literally true.—Springfield (Ill) Register.

THE SIOUX TREATY.—We are informed that the Senate, in Executive Session, on Tuesday, ratified the treaty entered into with the Upper Sioux Indians for the cession of their lands in the Minnesota Territory. The treaty as originally made provided for a reservation ten miles in width on either side of the Minnesota River; but it is understood that this provision was struck out by the Senate, and that, in lieu of it, the annuities were increased, and discretionary authority conferred upon the President in regard to the selection of land in other localities for occupation by the Indians.—Republic.

SURPRISE MARRIAGES.—"Surprise parties" have grown into fashion, and, as a companion to them, surprise marriages have sprung into existence. A surprise marriage is one where the parties, privately wedded, without the knowledge of their most intimate friends, and even parents, preserve their secret sufficiently long to create a sensation by suddenly declaring themselves man and wife. Many think them productive of misconstruction and slander. They exhibit a fondness for originality, rather than a regard for prudence, though, doubtless, in many cases, found exceedingly convenient.

THE SOURCES OF THE NILE.—At the last meeting of the Bombay Geographical Society, says the Bombay Times of Feb: 18th last, a paper was read on the discoveries of the East African Missionaries, on what appear to be the sources of the Nile. This mysterious river is said to arise from two lakes, one of which is of great dimensions, nearly under the line, and they seem fed by the melting snows of the gigantic range, which rises to the altitude of 22,000 feet, at least, close by. The description of this long-looked-for locality coincides exactly with that given by Ptolemy, 2,000 years ago.

An Advertisement.

Wanted—a hand to hold my own,
As down life's vale I glide;
Wanted—an arm to lean upon,
Forever by my side.

Wanted—a firm and steady foot,
With step secure and free,
To take its strength and onward pace
Over life's path with me.

Wanted—a form erect and high,
A head above my own,
So much that I might walk beneath
Its shadow o'er me thrown.

Wanted—an eye within whose depth
Mine own might look, and see
Uprising from a guileless heart,
O'erflown with love for me.

Wanted—a lip, whose kindest smile
Would speak for me alone;
A voice, whose richest melody
Would breathe affection's tone.

Wanted—a true, religious soul,
To plous purpose given,
With whom my own might pass along
The road that leads to Heaven.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

SALAAM.

Dear Readers! In our new dress, we make our best bow to you to-day. "Old things have passed away" with us, and every thing you see about us is new. Ain't we good looking!

Our type is from the foundry of Geo. Bruce, New York, the oldest and best type foundry in this country.

The arrangement and mechanical excellence of the paper, is due to Mr. F. B. Ward, who has been Foreman in this office for five years, and who having honored his profession by providing himself with a good home from the avails of his labor, after getting us fairly under way, will retire to "Printer's Retreat," in the country, to enjoy the rewards of his industry, with the satisfaction of knowing that he has presented the citizens of Milwaukee and the State, with the neatest paper published in all Badgerdom, or the West.

N. B. We shan't retire, life and health being vouchsafed us, for several years, but shall keep a sharp look out that the matter and marrow of the Free Democrat shall correspond with its external appearance.

Cleanliness.—One of the most important pre-requisites to insure comfort and health, is cleanliness. Personal cleanliness is urged by the combined experience of all eminent physicians. A scrupulous regard for clean and frequently renovated apartments, should be felt by every housekeeper. As the warm season is upon us, this should now be especially the case; and all the rooms of the dwellings should be ventilated every day, and thoroughly cleansed at least once a week. By observing these sanitary regulations, much sickness will be prevented, and a great part of the sickness during the summer months, is mainly attributable to the filth which is suffered to accumulate in cellars, houses and yards. Fetid water, steaming styes, and gases from choked drains, are sure to engender disease, and as that dread scourge, the cholera, is approaching us, it would be well that this matter be rightly attended to in time. "An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure," and the presumption that we may be visited with this disease, should be sufficient to show to our Board of Health and City Council, the propriety of taking such measures as will ensure the removal of all nuisances, such as foul gutters, ponds of water, &c., that may be within the corporate limits. Many of the vacant lots in the city are used as the receptacle for all the filth of their neighborhood, and the sickening odors that arise, generated by the falling upon them of the rays of a burning sun, are speedy breeders of pestilence. We feel assured that a proper precaution is necessary to prevent an unusual amount of sickness in the city.

To Business Men.—We submit that the Free Democat, in its present form, arrangement and style, with reading matter on every page, is unsurpassed if equalled, as a medium of advertising, by any of our cotemporaries. Its circulation is equal to any, and superior to most, its size is such as to render advertisements conspicuous and easily found and read, without being set up in hand bill style, and it is read by a multitude who neither subscribe nor pay for it. We shall be happy, therefore, if our business men consult their interests and ours, by availing themselves of the advertising columns of the Free Democrat.

Horticultural Exhibition at Military Hall.—This first experiment is a very successful one. The Hall is tastefully decorated with evergreen, and the show of flowers and fruits exceeds our expectations. There are boquets and flower-pieces from Gifford's and Ludwig's, strawberries from Parker's, pieplant &c. from Dr. Weeks' garden, fruit stand from Reed's, cherries, &c. &c. But we have no time to particularize.

The exhibition closes at half past six P. M., when a sale of the plants and fruit takes place. This first Horticultural Exhibition is an epoch in the history of this city. And the appearance of the Free Democrat, in its fresh and beautiful habiliments, is another—two epochs in one day! That will do.

Kate Hayes.—The Concert of Miss Hayes, last evening, owing to the excess of rain and the deficiency of dollars, was not very largely attended. But her singing was better than on the previous evening. Indeed, the audience were quite carried away with her performances. After singing the first two lines of "The harp that once thro' Tara's halls" she was interrupted by the explosion of a volley of fire-crackers which some ill-bred boys and children of larger growth had fired in the street, and turning to her pianist, in surprise, she exclaimed, "What's that?" After quiet was restored, she asked, "Shall I begin?" and then poured forth her soul in the sweetest melody which ever embalmed those beautiful words.

We have no other criticism for the Concert than this—from our innermost—God bless sweet Catharine Hayes!

Arrests.—A man named McDonald was lodged in jail this morning for attempting to force his way into another man's house. He had been on a Bachanalian spree, from which he was partially recovered, but not enough to be fully conscious of what he was doing.

A man named —— O'Brien was arrested and confined, yesterday, for using abusive and obscene language, and for a subsequent attempt to fight in an Auction Room. Blackguards, take warning.

Cricket Club.—The Cricket Club meets this afternoon, on Spring street Hill.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

England.—Nothing of interest in Parliament.

A line of steamers is to commence running on the first of August, between Liverpool and Australia. Three of the intended steamers are now employed in the Mediterranean.

The extensive establishment of Messrs. Clowes, in London, was damaged by fire on Thursday to the extent of $50,000. The whole of the editions of the "Illustrated Catalogue of the Great Exhibition," and of "Knight's Illustrated Shakspere," were destroyed.

Ireland.—The National Exhibition of Irish Industry was opened at Cork, on Thursday, the 10th inst.

The 29th June is the day fixed for the installment of Dr. Cullen, as successor in Dublin, to Archbishop Murray.

Government refused to extend an inquiry respecting the establishment of the American Mail Station at Cork.

The telegraph between Dublin and Galway is in such a state of forwardness, that experimental messages have been transmitted.

France.—The main point of interest this week, is the difficulty between the Constitutionel newspaper and the Government. The editor has received a second official warning—the third will be a suspension of the paper. Dr. Vernon, the writer of the obnoxious articles, seems inclined to stick to his statements.

One Paris correspondent, writing on the 10th, says: "It is known in political circles that the President is equally incensed against Vernon for his persistence, and Cavaigne, to whose blundering he attributes the publicity to the matter, he (the President,) having his own reasons for keeping the Belgium question as quiet as possible.

The Chateau de Louis Phillippe, a country seat, and the Forest of Arras, have been seized under the Confiscation decree.

Switzerland.—The Roman Catholic religious population in the Canton of Ticino are superseded, and their property confiscated by an order of a general Council, carried by a majority of two. This act of intolerance has stirred up anew the spirit of discontent that at present pervades the Republic.

Italy.—The States of the Church have joined the German, Italian and Austrian Postal Union.

The incorporations of arts and trades that were abolished in 1800 by Pius VII., are revised by a papal decree, and placed under the immediate surveillance of the clergy.

A Swiss journal states that the Pope has contracted with a Mr. Kalberwartton, to recruit a papal army of 6,000 picked men, mostly Swiss.

Straw as a Covering.—Clean straw is an excellent covering for many things: thousands on thousands of sea kale in frames or under hoops have no other blanching material; and how clean they grow in it! Rhubarb, in winter forcing and early spring, grows beautifully pinky. It is well known that early spring frosts destroy Rhubarb; but if a six inch layer of straw is put on every crown, as the heads put up, they raise the straw with them, and it not only gives the stalks a better color, and makes them less "stringy," but it keeps the leaves from growing too large. No wind will blow it off, nor will the most intense frost injure the plants. Straw should not be looked on as a mere litter; it is as good as a frame upon a large scale. What short of eatable strawberries would we have without straw? In summer, every crop, such as gooseberries, currants, and many other things, should have the protection of straw, which keeps the sun from drying up the surface, and the surface roots damp and cool, while all weeds are kept down. Market gardeners used it for their frames, it matters not whether for cucumbers, melons, or potatoes, straw is their covering—and their crops are more secure than protected by a thin mat. But some may object to the use of straw, on account of the litter it makes in a garden; but if any of those who object to its use for this reason, will just take a peep into Convent Garden market at any season, they cannot fail to be struck with the quality of the produce, in the raising of which straw plays an important part. Straw is also the best of all manures for a strong retentive soil, when it is dug in fresh, as it decays and leaves innumerable wormlike holes which act like drains for the roots.—Gardener's Chronicle.

Spiritual Rapping Suicide.—Mrs. Douglass, of Cicero, Onondaga county, Wednesday night last, after all her family had gone to bed, let herself down in the well—leaving a note addressed to her husband, stating that her body could be found in the well, and that she believed that her spirit would come back to the earth and take care of her child. Her determination "to shuffle off this mortal coil" in expectation of an improved condition was so deliberate that she had two or three days before purchased her grave clothes.

☞ It is a strange fact that the bodies of men, when drowned always float face downwards; the bodies of women always face upwards! What is the reason? Who can give a scientific explanation of this fact?—Springfield Repub.

We certainly. Did you ever see a live women who did not dare to face you, and is it not the ruling passion always strong in death? There, that explanation is scientific and political, we think.—Day Book.

A Noble Woman.—Years ago, when most all grocers sold Liquid Fire, a firm in this city who had been doing a very large business, especially in the rum line, became bankrupt. One of the firm, who is now a very worthy man, went home and told his wife that he was a bankrupt.

"Well, says the lady, there is one consolation about it—and that is, the profits of the rum business will not disgrace our children.—Battle Axe.

Some three years since a poor factory girl, working in one of the villages on Blackstone River, in Rhode Island, was given a sealed letter by a maiden aunt, with a solemn injunction not to open it until she was 18 years old. The girl was then 15. On the 23d of last month, being her eighteenth birth-day, she opened the letter and found directions for her to obtain a fortune of $8,000, willed to her by her aunt, who has since died. On Thursday last the fortunate girl obtained the whole amount in cash.—She will probably have plenty of applications from young gentlemen, to be permitted to assist her in taking care of it.

Forest Funeral.

She was fair, with tresses of long black hair lying over her pillow. Her eye was dark and piercing, and as it met mine she started slightly, but looking up she smiled. I spoke to her father, and then turning to her, asked if she knew her condition.

'I know that my Redeemer liveth,' said she, in a voice whose melody was like the sweetest strains of the Æolian.

You may imagine the answer startled me, and with a few lines of the like import, I turned from her. A half hour passed, and she spoke in the same deep, rich melodious voice.

'Father, I am cold; lie down beside me,' and the old man laid down by his dying child, and she twined her arms around his neck, and murmured, in a dreamy voice, 'dear father, dear father!'

'My child,' said the old man, 'doth the flood seem deep to thee?'

'Nay, father, my soul is strong.'

'Seest thou the thither shore?'

'I see it father, and its banks are green with immortal verdure.'

'Hearest thou the voice of its inhabitants?'

'I hear them father; the voice of angels calling from afar in the still and solemn night time, and they call me. 'Her voice, father—O, I heard it then!'

'Does she speak to thee?'

'She speaks in tones most heavenly.'

'Does she smile?'

'An angel—but a cold, calm smile! but I am cold, cold! Father, there is a mist in the room. You'll be lonely. Is this death, father?'

'It is death, my Mary.'

'Thank God!'

Sabbath evening came, and a slow procession wound through the forest to the school house. There, with simple rites, the clergyman performed his duty and went to the grave. The procession was short. There were hardy men and rough in shooting jackets and with rifles on their shoulders. But their warm hearts gave beauty to their unshaven faces, and they stood in reverent silence by the grave. The river murmured, the birds sang, and so we buried her.

I saw the sun go down from the same spot, and the stars were bright before I left, for I always had an idea a grave-yard was the nearest place to heaven on earth; and with old Thomas Brown, I love to see a church in a grave-yard, for even as we pass through the place of God on earth, so we must pass the temple of God on high.—*N. CRANE'S PATENT COMPOUND SOAP.

WARRANTED to do no injury to Clothing, and to be the best Soap preparation in use. A half pound is all that is required for the washing of all that ten gallons of suds will soak, and dispensing entirely with boiling, which no other preparation pretends to do, and the use of the Washing Machine and Rubbing Board, thereby saving the expense of fires and the most severe labors of the washing day, and also the entire wear and tear of the Clothing [to say nothing of the hands,] in washing, which is frequently the most destructive to which clothing is subjected.

The Soda after the wash, is the best article for the cleaning of painted surfaces, wood work, oil cloth, carpets, iron railing, &c., that many ladies in this city who have tried it, ever saw.

Warranted the best Soap in use for removing grease spots from clothing, the cleaning of summer Hats, etc.; excellent for bathing, especially in sickness, leaving the skin soft, clear and PERFECTLY CLEAN, and in washing, not making the hands sore like preparations containing soda.

Ladies! the above is no HUMBUG! as numerous testimonials of those who have used it will demonstrate, and to the truth of which the reputation of the subscriber is pledged. All he asks is that it shall be proven, according to the directions accompanying each package. Ladies, try it.

IS altogether superior to any Medicine heretofore discovered for the rapid cure of Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, also for all diseases which originate from impurity of the blood, to wit: Salt Rheum, Mercurial, Syphilitic or Venereal, and Eruptive, or Diseases of the Skin, as Blotches, Pimples or Pustules, and all Itching Eruptions, Chronic Inflammation of the Liver, White Swellings, Necrosis, or Fever Sores, Rickets, Fistula, and King's Evil; in short, in every taint in the System or Blood, from whatever cause it may arise, or of, however long standing, this medicine will be found far superior to any other remedy.

This Syrup rapidly imparts Purity and Vitality to the Blood, and action to the Liver, and thereby assists nature in throwing off disease.

Notwithstanding this Syrup is a powerful Curative, and invariably creates an appetite, gives tone and energy to the nervous system, and strengthens the whole body, yet it is mild in its action, and may be safely employed in the most delicate cases. It is agreeable to the taste and stomach, and in diseases of Women and Children, One Bottle of Sloan's Life Syrup will produce more real benefit than ten times the same quantity of any other preparation offered to the public. One table spoonful of this Syrup is all that is necessary to be given at a time, whereas, nearly all other preparations are recommended to be taken in large quantities, which seldom benefit the patient, and frequently overloads the stomach and produces serious injury—consequently Sloans Life Syrup, is not only the best Medicine of the kind in use, but it is decidedly the cheapest. For Man it has no equal, and is emphatically the Poor Man's Friend, and a superior Family Medicine.

THE DEMOCRACY OF CHRISTIANITY;

OR AN

ANALYSIS OF THE BIBLE AND ITS DOCTRINES, IN THEIR RELATION TO THE PRINCIPLE OF DEMOCRACY.

In Two Volumes, comprising 875 pages.

By WM. GOODELL.

Published by Cady & Burgess, 60 John st., New York.

THIS great work is strongly recommended by R. P. Aydelott, D. D., late President of Woodward College, Cincinnati; by Prof. Hudson, of Oberlin; by Hon. Amasa Walker, Secretary of State of Massachusetts, and by a great number of the first men of our country.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We have read the book through very attentively, and can bear testimony to its great ability, and the soundness of its principles. * * * The essay is a very able one, and well adapted, as Cobbett used to say, for a thinking people, and no fair minded and intelligent reader can rise from a perusal of it without a higher appreciation of the Mosaic code, and of true democratic principles."—N. Y. Tribune.

"This work appears anonymously, but it discloses qualities of authorship, of which the writer need not be ashamed. * * * He strikes at the root of the business at once. He traces the democratic principle as it is mingled in all God's provisions for the Patriarchs and the Israelites in the clearest manner. His analysis of the tendency and character of the Mosaic institutes is particularly able. He discovers a degree of wisdom and benevolence in those provisions but little understood. We have never seen the political bearings and scope of the Mosaic law so strikingly portrayed. The present volume respects only the doctrines of the Old Testament—we hope the author will be encouraged to go on with the searching and impartial examination."—New York Evangelist.

"The author has given some beautiful illustrations, drawn from Scripture, showing that it abounds with democratic sentiment. * * It is a work that should attract the attention of the thinking portion of society. The style is attractive, and the subject an interesting one."—American Statesman.

"This, 'Citizen of the United States' deserves a hearing. He is a strong thinker and an able writer—indeed he must be a man of great experience with the pen.— * * * Sweeping from Genesis onward, not a ray of light escapes him which can be construed into the dawning of those glorious popular institutions which we now enjoy. And he certainly finds a great deal to his purpose. * * * The truth is, the Mosaic code made advances towards democracy which stood alone for centuries, and when we take the strong glasses of such a writer as this, our veneration of the Bible is placed on a very high footing."—Boston Chronotype.

"The subject of this volume is well handled, and justly pressed on the observation of the reader."—Democratic Review.

"We advise all classes to read, mark, and inwardly digest this volume."—Ontario Messenger.

"The field of discussion opened is broad and rich; it has been ably explored, and its treasures of precious truth are revealed with a master's hand."—Oberlin Evangelist.

"The conception of this work is original. * * * We commend it to the perusal and careful study of all classes."—Ohio Star.

"We have neither time nor space to give a general or extended notice of this invaluable production, but merely drop a hint, that our friends may not deprive themselves a single moment of a rich treat, but lay fast hold of it now."—Golden Rule.

GREAT WORK ON CIVILIZATION.— This great work can be had at OTT'S Bookstore, 275 East Water street. It is the work of the age. From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of this work, from the religious and secular press, we only select the following:

"This admirable work is at length before us, and we hasten to inform our readers of the valuable addition, which has thus been made to the Literature of our country. The work is by far the most important of its kind, ever published in this country. It is in fact a complete library in itself, condensed and so arranged as to bring the whole question within the grasp of the humblest reader. It appears most appropriately at the present time, and will, no doubt, prove an instrument of great efficacy in the work of diffusing sound doctrines on the matter of which it treats."—Truth Teller. april22

THE CATHOLIC PULPIT.—Containing a Sermon for every Sunday and Holiday in the year, and for Good Friday. From the last revised London Edition.

To the practical judge of eloquence, this work presents a wide and varied ground of comparisons between the respective styles of French, English, German and Italian Oratory.

Forest Funeral.

She was fair, with tresses of long black hair lying over her pillow. Her eye was dark and piercing, and as it met mine she started slightly, but looking up she smiled. I spoke to her father, and then turning to her, asked if she knew her condition.

'I know that my Redeemer liveth,' said she, in a voice whose melody was like the sweetest strains of the Æolian.

You may imagine the answer startled me, and with a few lines of the like import, I turned from her. A half hour passed, and she spoke in the same deep, rich melodious voice.

'Father, I am cold; lie down beside me,' and the old man laid down by his dying child, and she twined her arms around his neck, and murmured, in a dreamy voice, 'dear father, dear father!'

'My child,' said the old man, 'doth the flood seem deep to thee?'

'Nay, father, my soul is strong.'

'Seest thou the thither shore?'

'I see it father, and its banks are green with immortal verdure.'

'Hearest thou the voice of its inhabitants?'

'I hear them father; the voice of angels calling from afar in the still and solemn night time, and they call me. 'Her voice, father —O, I heard it then!'

'Does she speak to thee?'

'She speaks in tones most heavenly.'

'Does she smile?'

'An angel—but a cold, calm smile! but I am cold, cold! Father, there is a mist in the room. You'll be lonely. Is this death, father?'

'It is death, my Mary.'

'Thank God!'

Sabbath evening came, and a slow procession wound through the forest to the school house. There, with simple rites, the clergyman performed his duty and went to the grave. The procession was short. There were hardy men and rough in shooting jackets and with rifles on their shoulders. But their warm hearts gave beauty to their unshaven faces, and they stood in reverent silence by the grave. The river murmured, the birds sang, and so we buried her.

I saw the sun go down from the same spot, and the stars were bright before I left, for I always had an idea a grave-yard was the nearest place to heaven on earth; and with old Thomas Brown, I love to see a church in a grave-yard, for even as we pass through the place of God on earth, so we must pass the temple of God on high.—*N. IS altogether superior to any Medicine heretofore discovered for the rapid cure of Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, also for all diseases which originate from impurity of the blood, to wit: Salt Rheum, Mercurial, Syphilitic or Venereal, and Eruptive, or Diseases of the Skin, as Blotches, Pimples or Pustules, and all Itching Eruptions, Chronic Inflammation of the Liver, White Swellings, Necrosis, or Fever Sores, Rickets, Fistula, and King's Evil; in short, in every taint in the System or Blood, from whatever cause it may arise, or of, however long standing, this medicine will be found far superior to any other remedy.

This Syrup rapidly imparts Purity and Vitality to the Blood, and action to the Liver, and thereby assists nature in throwing off disease.

Notwithstanding this Syrup is a powerful Curative, and invariably creates an appetite, gives tone and energy to the nervous system, and strengthens the whole body, yet it is mild in its action, and may be safely employed in the most delicate cases. It is agreeable to the taste and stomach, and in diseases of Women and Children, One Bottle of Sloan's Life Syrup will produce more real benefit than ten times the same quantity of any other preparation offered to the public. One table spoonful of this Syrup is all that is necessary to be given at a time, whereas, nearly all other preparations are recommended to be taken in large quantities, which seldom benefit the patient, and frequently overloads the stomach and produces serious injury—consequently Sloans' Life Syrup, is not only the best medicine of the kind in use, but it is decidedly the cheapest. For Man it has no equal, and is emphatically the Poor Man's Friend, and a superior Family Medicine.

THE DEMOCRACY OF CHRISTIANITY;

OR AN

ANALYSIS OF THE BIBLE AND ITS DOCTRINES, IN THEIR RELATION TO THE PRINCIPLE OF DEMOCRACY.

In Two Volumes, comprising 875 pages.

By WM. GOODELL.

Published by Cady & Burgess, 60 John st., New York.

THIS great work is strongly recommended by B. P. Aydelott, D. D., late President of Woodward College, Cincinnati; by Prof. Hudson, of Oberlin; by Hon. Amasa Walker, Secretary of State of Massachusetts, and by a great number of the first men of our country.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We have read the book through very attentively, and can bear testimony to its great ability, and the soundness of its principles. * * * The essay is a very able one, and well adapted, as Cobbett used to say, for a thinking people, and no fair minded and intelligent reader can rise from a perusal of it without a higher appreciation of the Mosaic code, and of true democratic principles."—N. Y. Tribune.

"This work appears anonymously, but it discloses qualities of authorship, of which the writer need not be ashamed. * * He strikes at the root of the business at once. He traces the democratic principle as it is mingled in all God's provisions for the Patriarchs and the Israelites in the clearest manner. His analysis of the tendency and character of the Mosaic institutes is particularly able. He discovers a degree of wisdom and benevolence in those provisions but little understood. We have never seen the political bearings and scope of the Mosaic law so strikingly portrayed. The present volume respects only the doctrines of the Old Testament—we hope the author will be encouraged to go on with the searching and impartial examination."—New York Evangelist.

"The author has given some beautiful illustrations, drawn from Scripture, showing that it abounds with democratic sentiment. * * It is a work that should attract the attention of the thinking portion of society. The style is attractive, and the subject an interesting one."—American Statesman.

"This, 'Citizen of the United States' deserves a hearing. He is a strong thinker and an able writer—indeed he must be a man of great experience with the pen.—* * * Sweeping from Genesis onward, not a ray of light escapes him which can be construed into the dawning of those glorious popular institutions which we now enjoy. And he certainly finds a great deal to his purpose. * * The truth is, the Mosaic code made advances towards democracy which stood alone for centuries, and when we take the strong glasses of such a writer as this, our veneration of the Bible is placed on a very high footing."—Boston Chronotype.

"The subject of this volume is well handled, and justly pressed on the observation of the reader."—Democratic Review.

"We advise all classes to read, mark, and inwardly digest this volume."—Ontario Messenger.

"The field of discussion opened is broad and rich; it has been ably explored, and its treasures of precious truth are revealed with a master's hand."—Oberlin Evangelist.

"The conception of this work is original. * * * We commend it to the perusal and careful study of all classes."—Ohio Star.

"We have neither time nor space to give a general or extended notice of this invaluable production, but merely drop a hint, that our friends may not deprive themselves a single moment of a rich treat, but lay fast hold of it now."—Golden Rule.

GREAT WORK ON CIVILIZATION.—This great work can be had at OTT'S Bookstore, 275 East Water street. It is the work of the age. From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of this work, from the religious and secular press, we only select the following:

"This admirable work is at length before us, and we hasten to inform our readers of the valuable addition, which has thus been made to the Literature of our country. The work is by far the most important of its kind, ever published in this country. It is in fact a complete library in itself, condensed and so arranged as to bring the whole question within the grasp of the humblest reader. It appears most appropriately at the present time, and will, no doubt, prove an instrument of great efficacy in the work of diffusing sound doctrines on the matter of which it treats."—Truth Teller. april22

THE CATHOLIC PULPIT.—Containing a Sermon for every Sunday and Holiday in the year, and for Good Friday. From the last revised London Edition.

This most valuable and celebrated periodical has just arrived at C. OTT'S Bookstore, 275 East Water street, where subscriptions will be received. The work will be completed in semi-monthly numbers, making an 8 vo volume of nearly 800 pages, at the low price of two dollars.

To the practical judge of eloquence, this work presents a wide and varied ground of comparisons between the respective styles of French, English, German and Italian Oratory.

☞ C. OTT is also Agent for the "Shepherd of the Valley," published at St. Louis—a paper that deserves the widest circulation. june17
